

Australian National University

ANU College of Business and Economics (CBE) alumni update

Alumni Hall of Fame 2021

The CBE Alumni Hall of Fame awards recognise the achievements of the College's alumni, and are an opportunity to acknowledge the accomplishments of those who have made significant societal impacts.

Nominations for the 2021 Awards will open in July. We will be reaching out to you shortly with more information about how you can nominate your peers for this distinguished award.

Alumni stories

What's the human cost of COVID-19?

Amir Jilani shares his economic insights on social development issues.

Empowering leadership

Serene Ng was awarded a PhD in Management by CBE in 2012 and shares her insights on leadership research.

Alumni initiatives

Has COVID-19 changed your career path?

Many of our alumni's careers have pivoted due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Please click here if this applies to you and you'd like to share your story with our community.

Join the CBE Alumni Network (Canberra)

This network will facilitate further engagement amongst Canberra-based alumni. Members will soon be invited to attend additional alumni events and access further networking opportunities.

Share your knowledge and become

Information for employers

a mentor

Be part of the College's flagship mentoring and professional development program – MomentuM. Mentor EOIs are open. Apply now.

Let the CBE Careers and Student Employability team introduce you to our talented CBE students and graduates through on-campus and virtual events.

CBE GLOBE International Job Board

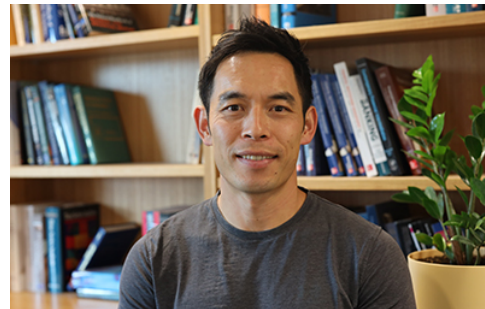

This exclusive job board promotes your internship and full-time job opportunities to CBE students, helping you identify top talent to complement your business.

Research highlights

The 2021 Federal Budget: well-intentioned but misguided

Despite announcing tax cuts and investment in infrastructure and essential services, CBE experts discuss the policy missteps of the 2021 Federal Budget.

Managerial incentives change how government spending affects private investment

Dr Phong Ngo, who completed his PhD at CBE in 2006, employs a novel approach to understand how government spending affects private R&D expenditure.

Invest in tomorrow's financial leaders through the ANU Student Managed Fund (ANU SMF)

The ANU SMF is administrated by the ANU Research School of Finance, Actuarial Studies and Statistics (RSFAS), and enables students to enrol in a course where they manage actual money with the purpose of funding scholarships for disadvantaged students.

The ANU SMF was initially funded by a generous donation from Russell Clark, an ANU alumnus who completed his Bachelor of Economics and Bachelor of Asian Studies in 2000, and has since been supported further through contributions by others.

CBE hopes to grow the Fund and welcomes community support. Your generosity will enable the College to further develop the real-world investment experience that the SMF provides students.

Donate now to the ANU SMF

Find out more about the SMF via the course webpage, 2020 Annual Report and Mid-Semester Report – Semester 1, 2021.

Supporting CBE

CBE recognises that we owe much of our students' successes to alumni, industry partners and other valuable stakeholders who provide them with fundamental learning experiences, and play a pivotal role in shaping their employment path.

There are many ways you can support the College.

- Scholarship and prize contributions
- Host an intern
- Become a mentor
- Participate in a Special Industry Project
- Co-host an event
- Be a guest speaker
- Explore partnership opportunities
- Share your experience in an alumni story

Please contact alumni.cbe@anu.edu for more information about supporting CBE through these opportunities.

Donations to the College will further enable us to facilitate these initiatives and help us to develop new ones.

Donate now to the ANU College of Business and Economics General Fund

Gifts may also be directed to our Research Schools if preferred.

- Research School of Accounting Fund
- Research School of Economics Fund
- Research School of Finance, Actuarial Studies and Statistics Fund
- Research School of Management Fund

Thank you for your support.